

COPPER CANYON

Discovery Tour

México

The Copper Canyon, located amidst the heart of the Sierra Tarahumara, conformed by a system of six canyons vastly larger and at certain sections, deeper than the Grand Canyon in Arizona, is considered to be by many RTW tourers, one of the planet's top 10 motorcycling destinations.

Its vast and spectacular expanses and rich cultural and ethnic legacy, are considered unique and undoubtedly amongst the very few places in the world, where you can experience how people have lived for centuries, as the Raramuri indigenous people continue to talk their native dialect and struggle to survive eminent western culturalization while desperately grasping to their "quirra" (sharing) principle and other ancestral traditions...
